Honeywell represents everything you would want in an Ankole cow
Her horn length for age is really special and is potentially a 50”+ cow in the making, backed by incredible genetics coming out of 2 of South Africa’s most proven animals and one of the best combinations there is Added on top of that, a calf from Kampala who boasts the biggest bases in the country at 28” and is being put back in calf to the biggest Ankole bull in South Africa, Optimus Prime! With this combo already proven to produce monster animals, this is an opportunity like no other, not only to acquire an elite-tier Ankole cow but to invest in the best genetics and combinations South Africa has to offer.

She will be put back in calf to sexed semen from Optimus Prime!
